Dom Says

The EP is a conceptual story split into two parts. Part 1 explores the aftermath of a close relationship and follows the narrative and perspective of a single protagonist. The EP explores the soundscape of the passion, loss and hope of the questions which are never answered but felt. These inconsolable feelings create an image of a person alone, preparing to start again.

EYE OF THE STORM captures the final moment in a relationship when you're tired of giving your all to someone who doesn't want to rebuild or work on a fragmented relationship.

DRAMA reveals feelings of regret when moving on too quickly from a past relationship.

CAN'T SAY describes the feeling of becoming strangers to someone you had once had an emotional connection with (too). It's about not being able to find the words to describe the feelings of a fractured and ending relationship.

HOLD ON ME is about wanting to move on and move away from the emotions associated with someone but finding it hard to let go.

SOMEBODY ELSE delves deeper into the narrative set by Eye of the Storm and soulfully touches on the vulnerability we all face at our lowest moments when the one we hold closest to our heart desires somebody else.

About the Artist

Dom Malin is a Midlands-based artist who has been nurturing his musical talents since acquiring his first electric guitar. After realising his capacity to stir emotion with his expressive songwriting style, Malin continued to hone in on his talents by gaining a university degree in Music and teaching in a creative music college.

His biggest release came in November 2020 with 'Eye of the Storm', which found Malin's sound at its most nuanced. 2021 will see Malin releasing a collection of singles, alongside a conceptual and poignant EP, 'Something Never Said.' The highly awaited EP will be set in two parts, enabling his listeners to feel the emotions he brings with each track. Part 1 explores the themes of loneliness, heartbreak and emotional hardship and is a personal and observed account of someone having to start again.

Dom has proven himself an undeniable talent with the release of singles such as 'Eye of the Storm' & 'Can't Say' which immediately garnered recognition from BBC Introducing Lincolnshire, becoming song of the week. This was most recently (January 2021) followed up by a 'Live in Session' performance. The EP is reminiscent of the musicianship found within the works of The Lumineers, Damien Rice and Ben Howard.
